Alternate Auto Insurance Bill

Two weeks ago, H.3747, was introduced as an alternative to H.3695, the House Labor, Commerce and Industry Committee's automobile insurance bill, which is set for special order consideration today.

Backed by the S.C. Trial Lawyers Association, H.3747's primary sponsors are Reps. James Bailey and Tim Rogers. Here are highlights of this alternate auto insurance bill, currently before the LCI Committee.

Part I: Deletion of Antitrust Exemption

Part I of the bill would lift the antitrust exemption currently allowed for collective ratemaking bureaus. These bureaus would cease to function as rating organizations but would continue to be able to operate as advisory organizations, compiling and disseminating only historic loss data with no mathematical manipulations.

Proponents contend that these provisions would promote competition in the industry.

Part II: Limited Repeal of Anti-Rebate Law for Auto Insurance

Insurance agents would be allowed to offer rebates of all or a portion of their commissions in order to get business, under Part II of the bill. As drafted in the bill, these rebates would apply only to automobile insurance. Rebates in other lines of coverage would continue to be prohibited.

Part III: Limitation of Prudently Incurred Expenses and Use of Mileage Instead of Gender or Age as Criterion.

Section 1 of this part of the bill would limit the amount per premium dollar of expenses allowable in rates. Expenses would mean all prudently incurred costs other than claims.

For ratemaking purposes, the maximum allowable expense level would be based on the weighted average of the expenses for the top three most efficient companies among the ten largest writers of auto insurance in South Carolina.

Sponsors of the bill contend that these provisions would provide an incentive for companies to be more efficient since they would not be allowed to recover excessive expenses through rates.

Under Section 2 of the bill, age and gender could not be included in ratemaking plans. Instead, miles driven must be included.

Part IV: Development and Implementation of Safety Programs

Under Part IV of the bill, companies would be required to implement a variety of safety programs to help lower costs to the system. Companies would be required to attach to renewal notices a comparative accident statistic handout and a quarterly shopper's guide, comparing company rates with the rates of the top ten writers in South Carolina. The Chief Insurance Commissioner would promulgate rules to develop and implement safety programs. The regulations could include a safety incentive provision to provide companies with a profit incentive.

Part V: Investment Income

Part V of the bill would set the formula by which insurance companies calculate their investment income. Currently, state statute gives the Insurance Department the authority to promulgate a rule to specify the manner in which insurers shall calculate investment income. To date no rule has been promulgated.

Part V also would authorize the Chief Insurance Commissioner to reward efficient companies in the setting of rates by giving them one half the difference between their actual expense level and the maximum allowable level for ratemaking purposes. This reward would be given effect by increasing the return allowed in rates for investment income.

Part VI: Financial Institutions Authorized to Issue Reinsurance and Insurance

Banking institutions would be able to write reinsurance, under Part VI of the bill. After three years, banks would be allowed to enter all insurance lines.

Part VII: Cession Limitation of Objectively Bad Drivers

Part VII of the bill would require that only objectively bad drivers, who have failed the objective standards criteria, would be ceded to the Reinsurance Facility. No other policies could be ceded to the facility.

Part VIII: Eliminate Entire Recoupment Charge for Policyholders with Zero Surcharge Points and Increase Multiplier in Recoupment Formula for Policyholders in the Facility.

This part of the bill would eliminate the entire recoupment charge for drivers with zero surcharge points under the Uniform Merit Rating Plan promulgated by the Chief Insurance Commissioner. Policyholders who would not pay any recoupment charge would include everyone with a safe driver's discount and those drivers who have not failed the objective standards criteria.

Those ceded to the Reinsurance Facility (under this bill, this would be those drivers who fail the objective standards criteria) would pay an increased recoupment multiplier to cover the facility's losses.

Part IX: Require Insurance Companies to Tell Policyholders They Are in the Reinsurance Facility.

Insurance companies would be required to tell their policyholders if they are in the Reinsurance Facility because they are objectively bad drivers.

Part X: Stiff Fines for Avoidance of the Mandate to Write Auto Insurance and for Undue Coercion or Other Unfair Employment Practices by Companies Against Their Agents.

Under this part of the bill, insurance companies and agents would pay separate fines of $10,000 for each violation for avoidance by the companies or their agents of the mandate to write auto insurance. Companies would pay fines of $25,000 for each violation for undue coercion or other unfair employment practices by companies against their agents.

Part XI: Rate Reduction Amendment

Part XI would require, after elimination of the recoupment charge, a 15 percent reduction for the average driver with a safe driver discount or zero merit rating surcharge points on the anniversary date of his policy.

It also would authorize an insurer to apply to the Chief Insurance Commissioner for a rate adjustment after one year's actual experience under the new law. Thereafter, all companies would submit an annual rate report and rate application to the Chief Insurance Commissioner using the methodology established in the bill.

Part XII Uninsured Driver Entitled to Limited Damages

Under this part of the bill, uninsured drivers, who are involved in accidents where the driver of the other vehicle, who is insured, is at fault, would be entitled to damages for bodily injury resulting from the accident. However, the uninsured driver would not be entitled to property damages for the uninsured vehicle.

Part XIII: Sticker or Emblem Evidencing Insurance Coverage to be Affixed to Motor Vehicles.

Under Part XIII, owners of motor vehicles would be required to place an identifying sticker indicating insurance coverage on the front windshield of their cars above the inspection sticker. The insurance sticker must show the day, month and year the insurance expires.

This section also requires that every auto insurance policy in the state must cover a minimum 90 day period.

Those driving without the insurance sticker or with a sticker indicating an expired policy would be guilty of a misdemeanor. This violation would carry a $125 fine and the vehicle's license tags would be suspended until the driver could demonstrate the purchase of a one-year auto insurance policy.

Please note:

H.3747 does not include a seat belt with mandatory rate rollback provision. Supporters of the bill point out that seat belt with rollback legislation has already been introduced this session.

Addendum: Women in the Legislature

To commemorate "Women's History Month" last month, the Legislative Update printed short biographies of women who have served in the General Assembly. So busy tracking down past history, we lost sight of current events and failed to list District 25 Rep. Sarah G. Manly as the newest women legislator to join that distinguished group.

Elected in a special election, Mrs. Manly took the oath of office on opening day of the 1989 session. Here is Mrs. Manly's biography and a recapitulation of the overall data on women who have served in South Carolina's General Assembly.

Rep. Sarah G. Manly, D-Greenville

Serving her first term in the House representing Greenville County District 25, Sarah G. Manly was elected in a special election Dec. 6 filling the vacancy left by the death of Rep. Charles H. "Chick" Rice. Born in Greenville, Mrs. Manly received her undergraduate degree from Furman University in 1947 and a M.Ed. from Clemson University in 1980. A longtime member of the Greenville County School Board, she served from 1976-1988. Mrs. Manly serves on the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee.

Concluding Notes

With the election of Rep. Sarah Manly to the House, 36 women have been members of the General Assembly. Of these, six have been black women -- all elected to the House. Regarding political party affiliation, seven have been Republicans and 29 Democrats.

Nineteen out of 46 counties have elected a woman to the Legislature. Chief among these has been Richland County, which has produced five women legislators. Four women legislators have come from Charleston and Greenville counties; three each from Spartanburg and York; Horry, Jasper and Lexington counties each have elected two women to the General Assembly. Other counties that have sent a woman to the Statehouse include: Aiken, Beaufort, Calhoun, Cherokee, Chesterfield, Clarendon, Darlington, Dorchester, Florence, Laurens and Pickens.

Legislative Update Index

Here is an index to all bills and legislative issues featured in the first 12 issues of the 1989 Legislative Update. This index is arranged by subject and House or Senate bill number. Research reports on the issues are capitalized.

It is important to note that this index is only for information that appeared in the Legislative Update for this session. It is not an index of all bills or all issues that have come up before the House.
